

The Centre for the Advancement of Learning and Teaching (CALT) presents

The 2009 Learning and Teaching Showcase Series

Enriching Learning and Teaching Through Indigenous Voices

YULENDJ is a CALT project directed at integrating Indigenous knowledge and wisdoms within the framework of inclusive learning and teaching policies and practices at Monash University.

As part of its research and respect for the practices of other institutions, CALT is pleased to announce a seminar with keynote speaker:

Professor Lester-Irabinna Rigney

Director, Yunggoendi, First Nations Centre for Higher Education and Research, Flinders University

The address will be followed by a panel discussion and audience participation.

Date Tuesday 21 July 2009

Time 2:45pm registration
for a 3.00–5.00pm event

Venue Building H, Level B,
Room HB.40, Caulfield Campus

Limited places available

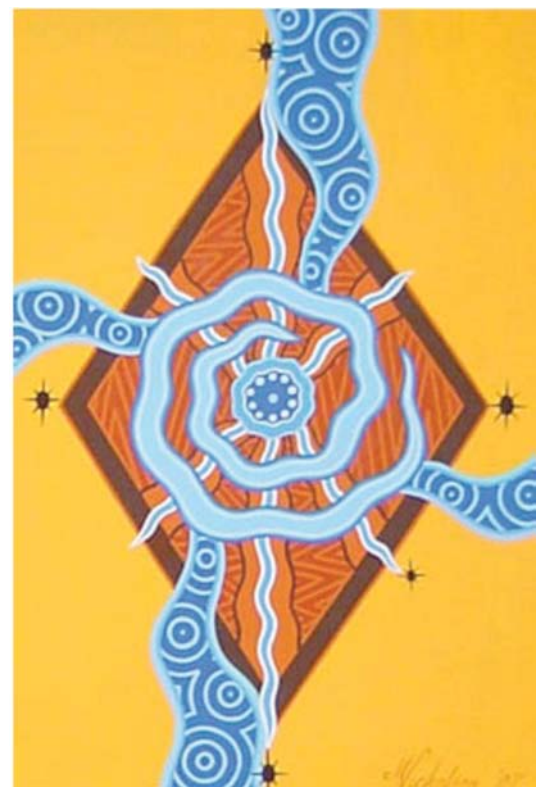

Please register your interest no later than Wednesday, 15 July 2009

Erin Barry, Centre Administrator, CALT

Telephone: 9903 1198

Email: erin.barry@calt.monash.edu.au

Refreshments will be provided after the event.

'Continuation Of Knowledge And Culture With No Barriers'

Artist: Mandy Nicholson, 2007